Lloyd's passion for home improvement and the building industry started with his first job at fifteen in a lumber yard. His time in retail lumber and wholesale millwork transitioned into an intentional pursuit of kitchen and bath design.

Lloyd loves the challenge of guiding his clients through the sometimes overwhelming process of remodeling a kitchen or bath. "Understanding the impact we can have on our clients' lives is what drives me to do the best job I can with every project".

When Lloyd is not working, his interests include spending time with his beautiful daughters and wife, relaxing with friends, and working on home improvement projects.
